WEDNESDAY, JULY 9, 1884.

In another page will be found a list of patents issued to Northwestern inventors during the week ending yesterday.

Senator Bayard left Washington yesterday for his home in Delaware, where he will greet news of the result of the convention.

The Democrats have appointed a committee to confer with the manufacturers in reference to the proposed reduction in the rate of wages.

The English are sending reinforcements to Suakim on the borders of Egypt proper and the Soudan, as if anticipating an invasion of Egypt by the Mahdi.

Senator Cameron has adopted the unit rule, and the entire vote will go to Cleveland on the 2d ballot. On the second ballot the vote may go to Hayes.

Gallaher Stevenson, C. P. Huntington, Charles Crocker, Timothy Hopkins, and W. H. Harrington were colleagues of Strahorn of the Central Pacific Railroad yesterday.

A train in which there were two cars of visitors left Hazelton county for Cardiff. A dispute has left the latter place to pursue the interior route from entering path.

A railroad has been opened from the Gulf to Guatemala in the City of Guatemala, a distance of seventy-five miles. It is controlled by Mr. C. P. Huntington's Central Pacific.

Physicians are arriving in London as outposts in medical detachments. Patients intend are taken to the hospital. These precautions are taken to prevent the entrance of cholera to the city.

Gen. Cullom's sentiment to perform the useless work of his office at Albany undisturbed by what is going on at the Chicago Convention. He refuses to enter into a discussion of his chances.

Cleveland has lost ground in Maryland on account of the arrogance of the New York supporters. He will get but three votes from that State, the others will be divided between Hewitt and Thurman.

The cholera plague at Toulon and Marseilles appears to be retreating. The number of deaths at the former place Monday was ten and at the latter fourteen. The people of both cities are leaving and it is hoped they will spread the plague.

It is said that in spite of all that Gen. Butler can do on behalf of Massachusetts delegates will break and go to Cleveland, and that ex-Mayor Prince, notwithstanding Butler's determined opposition, will be appointed Democratic Councilman from Massachusetts.

Chadwick, the English Pacific Railway crank who sued for libel against Mr. Wilson O'Neal, of United Ireland, resident in a county in O'Brien, has lost from Dublin. Several parties connected with Carroll in the Assemblies have also taken to their heels.

Robert S. Lyons, agent of the Southern Express Railroad Company at Corinth, Miss., also agent for the Mississippi Express Company at that place, has been prosecuted several times for delivering packages containing liquor to parties to furnish out violation. The packages were sent from Kansas City, and the agent was not prepared to know what they contained. He has been fined $50 in each case. In consequence of the prosecutions several express companies have withdrawn their agencies from Corinth and other Kansas towns.

The Senate appropriation bill provided for the additional special constables in connection with the Pension Department. The place will be filled by competitive examination. Twenty-five additional appointments to the Pension Office will also be filled in accordance with the civil service rules.

The New York Democratic papers the World and Herald, sharply criticise the Democratic majority of the Forty-eighth Congress. The World says the majority did its best to impair its party's chances of success in the Presidential Convention. The Herald says its record is absolutely barren of important and much-needed legislation.

A quarrel between two Baltimore gamblers caused Shaw and Silverman resident in the latter being shot dead by the former. Both men have been interested in Democratic ward politics, and their morals have not been good. Silverman had tried to make it to make of Shaw to a delegate to the Democratic Convention now in session in this city.

The previous market was very much disturbed, except grain, the arrival of the visible in Europe being regarded as favorable by to interrupt the export movement of grain and provisions. As compared with Monday, pork closed easier, lard 10 cents lower, corn eighty cents lower, and oats ½ cent lower.

Richardson Barnes, guard through Pittsburg, Pa., at noon yesterday on his way to Chicago, where he expects to have much to say in reference to the Democratic platform. He says that the majority of the members of the Democratic party are highly-toned and their interests should be protected. Mr. Barnes asserts that he would not attend the convention at all but for his solicitude as to the tariff plank.

Congressman Randall, of the Fair Haven District, returned home yesterday. In an interview with a Tribune reporter he cordially criticised the do-nothing and humiliating policy of the Democratic majority. The Democrats, he said, appreciated of legislation with fear and trembling but it should affect them in the Presidential election. Speaking of the work of the Chicago delegation on matters affecting this city, he said they worked harmoniously and succeeded in obtaining appropriations of $100,000 for Chicago harbor, $50,000 for Calumet harbor, and $50,000 for the Calumet River. Mr. Randall was the independent canvasser in the East was insignificant. No luck seems that Blaine and Logan will be elected.

It is generally understood that a majority of the Committee on Resolutions of the Democratic Convention are decidedly opposed to the views of Messrs. Watterson, Hunt, Egerton, and Carlisle. The following quotation, it is reported, will strongly oppose the adoption of a tariff-for-revenue-only plank: Governor of Ohio, Ray of Pennsylvania, Walker of Alabama, Howell of Georgia, Butler of Louisiana, Butler of Massachusetts, and Chase of California. The free-traders will be represented by Messrs. Watterson, Morrison, Sterling Morton of Nebraska, Dickinson of Michigan, and others of minor note, and they will be intelligently assisted, it is said, by Mr. Hewitt. In case the anti-free-trade party should succeed in electing a plank declaring for "unlimited protection," it is thought that Messrs. Watterson and Morrison and their friends will offer a minority report to the convention and carry the fight down to favor of free-trade theory.

TAMMANY'S BUFFALO FIGHT.

The Tammany delegates to the Democratic National Convention made a valiant but unavailing fight for individual recognition yesterday. They did not accept their rights as delegates to vote their own opinions, and are minority of the New York delegation they will be unified not as completely as if they did not accept seats in the convention, at the same time the discussion yesterday was built to have failed to impress the delegates of the convention that the encouragement of Gov. Cleveland's nomination by the application of the gag law is an extremely hazardous method by carrying New York in November.

The true cause of shortly after the meeting of the convention by the presentation of a resolution adopting the rule of the last convention (2) otherwise ordered, but objecting that the vote of no State should be changed until the ballot should be completed. Tri-the Tammany, represented by ex-Senator Grady, offered an amendment conferring upon delegates the privilege of changing the vote of their States as announced by the Chairman, and requiring the call of delegates to any State which the correctness of the announcement should be disputed. This opened up the question whether or not the unit rule in the New York delegation would be sustained by the convention, and the debate and the vote went to that point. Grady's amendment was finally defeated by a vote of 410 noes to 335 ayes, but it received a much larger support than was properly anticipated, and foreboded evidence that the principle of popular representation is growing in favor even among the Democrats.

All the arguments advanced in favor and fair dealing were in behalf of Tammany to assert that the minority of the New York delegation should be accorded the right to vote. There was something somewhat short Tammany leading the fight against the unit rule, but this was offset by the fact that the chief spokesman for the motion was a man who had been intensely unpopular with Bill Tweed, in his time, afterward became conspicuous among Tilden's supporters, and now seeks to Chicago for the "Cleveland and future." A summary of the case made by Tammany may be briefly stated as follows: (1) The National Convention is not bound by any instruction from a State Convention, for even to every accredited delegate a proportion of his rights. (2) The New York State Convention accorded equal representation to the great Democratic constituencies of New York City (the County Democracy and Tammany) on the basis of harmony, but the application of the unit rule under the dictation of the majority of the National delegates enables Tammany from at the benefits of that arrangement. (3) The district represented by the Tammany delegation, comprising a majority of the Democratic district of New York, was disfranchised in the convention by the decision reached yesterday, and they will be expected to support a candidate whom they will have no voice in selecting. If anything could be more unfair than this resolution it is difficult to conceive it.

The continental movement against the demand for proxies representation was made by ex-Senator Doolittle, a Chicago lawyer who represents Wisconsin in the convention, and it was based on the old history of State sovereignty. Doolittle contended that it was not a convention of the people, but a convention of the States, which was to assess. Stragglers of Wisconsin, present to the end of the National Convention in confirmation of the fair-

EXECUTIVE MANSION.

There are two men alone in Executive Hall. On the one side he is known as "Old" Hall, on account of his age, although he is not old in years, but old in experience and general performance. There is no man in the Senate whose world of political characteristics are so extremely distinct. On the human, as a living personage, as a talking or walking organization, all look of wonder is to be found. Hall, as indeed a Senator should, looks like a King of good humor, to the Senate Chamber he is a darling grey, and there are no doubts but that he will receive considerable to the honors against the opposition. If he had ever thought "ambitious" that thought has nothing good in Congressional he does, there are many who have failed to discover it. He has had many good words from Republican players themselves. His associates in the Senate, Mr. Voorhees, holds one of the best organs in the Committee—Appropriations—but of the Senate. He controls the appointments of the Speaker of Executive Session. Senator Hall is to Chicago, and the Senator is to arrive. It is not to long any events to a great many conventions here. There is the Democratic party. There is the Democratic State Central Committee, which meets here, and which, of course, will be in session. There are the Democratic Congressional committees, which will meet here, and which, of course, will be in session. There are the Democratic State Committees, which will meet here, and which, of course, will be in session. THE CITY.

IN GENERAL.

The temperature yesterday, as observed by Robbins, optician, 59 Madison street, Tribune Building, was: 6 a. m., 60°; 9 a. m., 66°; noon, 71°; 3 p. m., 72°; 6 p. m., 67°; 9 p. m., 64°; Maximum, 72°; Minimum, 60°.

The Directors of the Board of Trade met yesterday for the purpose of canvassing the ballots for the election of Directors to fill vacancies occasioned by the resignation of several parties to succeed the same now postponed for two weeks. Messrs. W. Butler, Albert A. Sawyer, and Charles Hamlet were elected scrutineers of the Board of Trade.

An excursion party, consisting principally of merchants and business men from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and vicinity, is expected to arrive this morning. The party was organized by Mr. William H. Bissell. The cars will run to this city, and the excursionists will remain over Sunday. The party will be met at the depot by the Lincoln Park Patrol.

Thomas Tuthill, a boy 8 years of age, who was run over and killed by a horse Monday, June 15, while playing on the street, was reported by the Coroner's Jury yesterday as not to blame for the accident, and the jury was unable to say who was.

A few days ago Matthew Lamb, the Cable baggageman at the South Clark, contracted and paid $25 bond of parties which had been purchased for the use of D. Sullivan & Son, Chicago, upon the assurance of that firm that baggage and passengers checked over that line would be delivered at the depot without charge. Lamb says that the parties who purchased tickets of him were informed that the check would be taken up by a driver connected with the house, but that subsequently the driver was arrested, and the check was unable to be found. Lamb was arrested yesterday.

T. Hayes, T. J. Dolan, William Morrissey, and E. M. Ryan, alias "Chicago" Ryan, the latter an ex-town Police Court character, were arrested yesterday on complaint of Lillie Hough, who charged them with stealing her coat and $4.50 in money at a resort on Clark street. Justice Lyon committed the said parties to the County Jail in default of $1,500 each. Bail was subsequently furnished for Hayes and Morrissey, and they were released. Dolan was unable to get bail, the attorney of the parties agreeing, for a consideration, not to prosecute him for assault and battery for the present.

Justice Lyon yesterday rendered judgment for Clara and Frank Spratt, brother and sister, the complaining witness, who testified to the misdeeds of the girl, was the father of the pair, who said there had gotten beyond the control of Lizzie Spratt and left to the house of the Good Shepherd for one year. Lizzie Spratt is only 13 years old, but has already run a variety of errands. The plaintiff agreed to pay the costs of the case, and the defendant was remanded to the custody of the Good Shepherd.

Thomas Cahill, a boy 8 years of age, who was run over and killed by a horse Monday, June 15, while playing on the street, was reported by the Coroner's Jury yesterday as not to blame for the accident, and the jury was unable to say who was.

GRAND JURY LOTS.

A drilling affair happened in the village of Lake, just west of Chicago yesterday afternoon. Harry Benjamin, of Hobson's Choice, and Mike Sol Wilson drew Grand Jury tickets, and, in order to settle which should serve, they agreed to fight it out with fists. Wilson was knocked out in the first round, and Benjamin was declared the victim of circumstances. Wilson was then sworn in, and Benjamin was discharged.

SUBURBAN.

Opening of the Roosevelt Club Rooms.

The north end of Hyde Park is about to be furnished in sunbeams. There are fine views, and visitors are prohibited except to parents living there from a desire to prevent young men from spending their evenings in the saloons of that city. Instead of the saloons, the Roosevelt Club Rooms, which were opened yesterday, will be open every evening, and the young men will be welcomed by the ladies of the family. The rooms are handsomely furnished, and are provided with a piano, and the club will have a reading-room, and the use of a billiard table. The rooms are in the Roosevelt Block, on Hyde Park avenue, and the club will be under the management of Mr. Wilson, who is well known in Hyde Park. The club will be formally opened this evening, and the ladies will be present to welcome the members. The rooms will be open every evening
